The rains of early Tuesday morning laid the dust nicely and greatly added to the comfort of Fair visitors.

Notwithstanding that we print the Journal a little earlier than usual this week, in order to see some of the big fair, it will reach most of its patrons about at the usual time.

T. B. Miller, H. B. Miller and G. W. Miller, brothers, and Mrs. Wm. Morrow and Mrs. Ed Mong, relatives, were called to Fountain City, Ind., Tuesday to attend the funeral of Mrs. W. T. Griffis, a sister of the gentlemen named above. Mrs. Griffis was born in Harrison township, this county, and is survived by her husband, a daughter and two sons.

Seven extra policemen are on duty this week, both the day and night forces being re-enforced, yet people must be on guard against thieving. Keep your dwellings securely locked and do not carry many valuables on your person. The slick fingered gentry are always to be found on occasions like this wherever there is a crowd or jam of people.

This is home coming week for hundreds of people who annually attend our county fair.

Mr. and Mrs. Carl Stoltz of Cincinnati and Herbert Stoltz of Columbus, Ohio, are visiting with B. A. Bear and wife, east of the city, this week.

Samuel Heverling of Lebanon, Ill., a brother of Henry Heverling, and who resided here some thirty years ago, is in the city on a visit. He finds that many changes have taken place in the people and city.

Alvin Kerst, who lives on his father's farm on the Fort Jefferson pike, fell from a building last Saturday, a distance of twenty feet, and fractured his collarbone, broke one of his arms at the wrist and was otherwise bruised and injured.

Frank M. Katzenberger, aged 82 years, died last Friday evening at his home near this city. Two sons and six daughters survive him, his wife having died several years ago. Funeral services were held from the residence Monday afternoon by Rev. Hoeffler, and interment was made in Greenville cemetery.

Chris Rismiller and wife, who reside northeast of the city, were before Mayor Maher Monday morning on a charge of cruelly and inhumanly whipping a little girl from the Children's Home they had taken to raise. It is said the child's body was black and blue from above the hips to below the knees and that she had received the whipping a week or more ago. To a plea of guilty by Rismiller, he was fined $50 and costs and Mrs. Rismiller's hearing set for last evening.

The airship made a short flight from the fair grounds Tuesday, to the delight of thousands of gazers, soaring over the south part of the city and returning to its starting place with ease. The wind was a little too strong at the time for the operator to make his contemplated flight over the city or a longer flight Tuesday afternoon, but a few minutes after six o'clock the operator, Johnny Hess, made another flight, this time soaring as far as the East School building, where he made a stop while several hundred feet in the air, turned the ship around and headed it for a return flight to the fair ground. It was at this point that it was seen the operator was having trouble of some kind in getting the ship started back and that it was drifting east with the current of air up there. While the thousands of people were watching this daring navigator of the air and while he was almost directly over Montgomery street, the silk gas bag was seen to burst and the occupant started on his perilous downward trip to old Mother Earth, every one expecting to hear of his being dashed to death. He retained his presence of mind, however, and in its downward flight the gas bag partially opened at times, thus serving in the capacity of a parachute, and he made a safe landing in a lot at the extreme end of East Fifth street, having sustained only a few scratches. It was a very lucky happening, indeed, as most people expected to see it a repetition of two years ago, when Prof. Baldwin lost his life in midair. The young man, it is said, was completely out of breath when he reached the ground and stood as one dazed for a few seconds, he, however, when a few feet above the tree-tops waved his hand to the people watching him and yelled that he was all right, and everybody was glad that he was and that he was not to be crushed to death on the ground.

Wesley Waldman, employed as a section hand on the D. & U. railroad, was struck on the head by the door of a passing freight car last Saturday morning and severely injured. He was engaged in cutting weeds along side the track at the time and did not see his danger. The blow knocked him to one side, away from the rails, and rendered him unconscious for awhile.

Oh, list to the bawl of the brindle cow when comes the dewy morn; and note the hump of the hired man as he cuts the ripened corn. Observe the swig of the Duroc pig as it fills itself with swill, and make a note of the William goat as he roams about at will. At the break of day begins the lay of the patient, tuneless hen. At night you're woken by the rumbling croak of the bullfrog in the fen. O'er the grassy lea flies the bumblebee with her stinger heated hot. She seeks the hair of the heir and generally finds the spot. With sweaty clothes and blistered nose comes the sturdy farmer's boy, he was hustled out by the farmer's shout when sleep was his chiefest joy.

For the Teeth.
One of the most effective methods of whitening the teeth is to take an orange wood stick, dip it into fine wood ashes and rub the teeth both on the inner and outer surfaces, when tartar and all stains will disappear as if by magic. This treatment should not be repeated more than once a month.

The elbows of children are very apt to wear through their sleeves. To prevent this place a piece of velvet or velveteen between the lining and the material just at the elbow when the frock is new.

To prevent wooden pails or tubs from shrinking when not in use paint them over with glycerin.

Fruit stains may be removed by pouring boiling water over the article, then washing.

Had You Planned to do Any Papering?

Well, by far the most particular part of all your plans is to make sure that the right paper goes on the walls. The cost of the paper is worth considering—but style, newness, suitability is your main lookout. For it is quite possible for you to pay us 5c a roll and get new designs, while at other places you may pay as high as 40c a roll, and still have patterns away behind the times. The hint should be plain enough. We've a whole NEW stock to show you—a bright, dependable lot of paper. Wall paper that you can buy from in safety without knowing anything at all about Wall Paper quality. We are really anxious to have you see it, for we feel that we can make it profitable for you to do your buying here.
